The Central American Bank for Economic Integration (CABEI), is an international multilateral development financial institution. Its resources are continuously invested in projects that foster development to reduce poverty and inequality; strengthen regional integration and the competitive insertion of its member countries in the global economy; providing special attention to environmental sustainability.

Mission
The Bank’s objective is to promote the economic integration and the balanced economic and social development of the Central American region, which includes the founding countries and the non-founding regional countries, attending and aligning itself with the interests of all of its member countries.

Vision
Strategic ally of its member countries in the provision of financial solutions that contribute to the creation of employment and improvement of the wellbeing and quality of life of its citizens.

What is CABEI?
CABEI can finance operations in its 15 member countries with a primary focus on the founding members: Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica. Followed by the regional non-founding members: Panama, Dominican Republic and Belize; and its extra-regional members: Mexico, Republic of China (Taiwan), Argentina, Colombia, Spain and Cuba.

Member countries

Meet the Executive President
Dr. Dante Mossi holds a Ph.D. in Economics with a specialization in Public Finance from Vanderbilt University; a Master’s Degree in Economics with specialization in Econometrics from Duke University and a degree in Electrical Engineering from the National Autonomous University of Honduras. Dr. Mossi has an extensive career of about 25 years, with more than 15 years of experience in the World Bank where he served as a country representative in Paraguay. He also held the positions of Senior Operations Officer in the Global Energy Practice in Africa, Chief of Operations in Ghana, Operations Officer and Country Economist in Honduras. Before his experience in development banking, Dr. Mossi worked for ten years as an economist in various positions in the government sector and as a consultant for the private sector.
The Bank’s financial strength is reflected in its credit rating, positioned as the best in Latin America, and a relevant issuer in capital markets with permanent access to financing under competitive conditions.

CABEI considers economic, social and environmental value throughout its operations. Its credit granting, monitoring and evaluation criteria reduce and prevent adverse impacts to the beneficiaries on these three sustainability aspects.

CABEI’s added value focuses on meeting the development needs of its member countries in a sustainable financial scenario through high-impact projects and operations. The Bank is continuously strengthening its position and delivering results in a changing and challenging environment.

CABEI’s resources provide communities increased access to services every day.

CABEI, the most relevant development bank for the region